Kids' Chance Silent Auction at the Governor's Safety and Health Conference and Exposition May 6-9th.

Sponsored by: The Kentucky Safety and Health Network, Inc.
& Kids' Chance of Kentucky

For the past several years during the Governor's Safety and Health Conference and Exposition, Kids' Chance of Kentucky has shared the story of its students and their hopes for continuing education in the face of personal tragedy. Maybe you came by the Kids' Chance booth in the Exhibit Hall or attended the banquet and heard the stories of the kids we support.

Their stories, while different in some details, were all the same - they each experienced a tragic, life changing event that could have meant the end of their college dreams. They could have quit...given up...and stopped trying. But they didn't. And, their stories didn't end with their loss.

This past fall they all began a new chapter, one that looked like it might never happen. But thanks to their efforts and their belief that if they keep preparing ... somehow...someday...their dreams came true. They entered college this past fall and are finishing up their first year.

But Kids' Chance needs your help to continue these dreams!

This year during the Governor's Conference and Exposition, a Kid's Chance Silent Auction will be held to raise funds to support the scholarships. This is where you can make a difference. Whether as an individual or corporation, small or large, we need your help. Please consider making a donation of a product or service that can be auctioned to raise the much needed funds for these scholarships. Every penny raised through this effort will go directly to fund a scholarship for one of our Kids' Chance Kids. Go to www.kshn.net for more information on the conference.

Auction open-Wed., May 7th, 11:00-7:00; Thurs., May 8th, 7:30-3:00.
Winners announced during the Governor's Banquet.
